

BEAUTIFUL SAVIOR LUTHERAN CHURCH

NOVEMBER 2022

WORD AND WORSHIP

ENJOYING WHAT YOU HAVE

It is better to look at what is in front of you than to go looking for what you want. Even this is pointless. [It's like] trying to catch the wind.

Ecclesiastes 6:9

Enjoying what you currently have is better than letting your heart wander. You should make use of what is in front of you instead of wandering around full of desires. This is what the dog in Aesop's writings did when he chased after the reflection in the water and lost the meat he had in his mouth. You should use what God has placed before you and be satisfied with it. You shouldn't try to satisfy your desires because they will never be satisfied. Instead, you should use whatever God has placed in front of you. All of it is very good (Genesis 1:31).

A faithful person is pleased with what he currently has and considers it all to be a gift from God. The unbeliever, however, acts differently. Everything he sees in front of him is nothing but a nuisance. He doesn't use these gifts or enjoy them. Rather, he allows his heart to roam in discontent. If he has money, he doesn't find pleasure in it or enjoy it. He always wants something different. If he has a wife, he wants someone else. If he acquires a kingdom, he isn't satisfied with just one. Alexander the Great, for example, wanted another world to conquer.

We should keep our eyes on what we already have in front of us. We should delight in all of it. We should enjoy it and give thanks to God for it. Therefore, God doesn't want our hearts to wander to thoughts of other things. This passage points out that we should make use of what we currently have. Letting our hearts wander around filled with desires is pointless.

LIFE QUOTES

“It is easy to look at others in the world and label them as enemies, especially when they have different political, religious, or ethical beliefs than we do. But, when God looks at those individuals, He wants them to belong to His family, too. A fruit of faith can be to show other individuals, made in God’s image, that they too, are chosen!”

Marie K. MacPherson, author - A Life Quote from Lutherans for Life

VOTERS MEETING

Sunday, November 13
